Westlake Village Animal Hospital

Westlake Village Animal Hospital's team of experts, including Daniel Slaton, DVM, offers Eastern holistic techniques such as acupuncture in addition to traditional western veterinary services. The staff also has been lauded for its widespread altruism, and works with more than a dozen rescue organizations throughout Southern California, saving dogs from being euthanized by offering free and discounted services.

"We provide all small animal hospital services," says Stan Slaton, business manager of Westlake Village Animal Hospital. "Dogs, cats, birds, exotics — even squirrels, rabbits and snakes — the whole gamut!"

The hospital's business has grown more than 60 percent in the last year, which is why it is opening a new, 8,500 square-foot facility in Westlake Village. The staff is excited to be merging practices with Steven Rosenstein, DVM, of Agoura Westlake Animal Hospital.

"We're going to have two state-of-the-art surgery suites, a separate dental suite and a rehabilitation treatment area with underwater treadmill and cold laser therapy to help with healing of wounds," Slaton said. "It's going to be one of the nicest facilities in Ventura County."

The new pet hospital, which will open in a few months, will be adjacent to the Barkley Pet Hotel & Day Spa, a 20,000 square-foot retreat and spa for pets, at 31166 Via Colinas in Westlake Village.

Currently, Westlake Village Animal Hospital is at 2806 Townsgate Road, Suite C, in Westlake Village.
